

IANS COLLECTION SALE LIST

A word about the seller.

Ian Durrant is one of the two owners of 'Sentimental Journey' and also 'The Gunner'. He began his interest in Military history with an army torch purchased for him by his parents in a 'cheap shop' in Forest Hill, London when he was about 7 years old. Serious collecting began slowly on beginning work in 1977 (Ian was then 17), when there was sufficient cash to feed the hobby. Items purchased ranged from WW2 Military vehicles through to uniform, manuals, maps and much else.

With the passing of time Ian has decided it is time to reduce the size of the collection, which with his wife Mandy's collection of women's uniform, fills a fair sized room, and move into other easier to manage areas of military collecting.

Many of the items here are fairly commonplace still today, others are not and it is unlikely that they will appear frequently on the open market in the future. Everything is guaranteed genuine unless stated otherwise.

To purchase any of these items please call direct on 01945 440289 Monday to Friday, best time is usually PM, but if I am not in then please leave a message and I WILL call you back. Alternatively you can call my mobile on 07920 530706
